

An Introduction to Pediatric Genetics for Healthcare Interpreters

This project is supported by the Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA) of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) under Cooperative Agreement #UH9MC30770-01-00 from 6/2017-5/2020 for $800,000 per award year.

This information or content and conclusions are those of the author and should not be construed as the official position or policy of, nor should any endorsements be inferred by HRSA, HHS or the U.S. Government.

Developed 03-2019. revised 08-2024

Day 2 – What to Expect

- Review
- Challenges for interpreters
- Vocabulary exercises – English only
- Vocabulary exercises – conversion
- Practice interpreting exercises
- Evaluation

Fill in the Blank

1. A _____ is a long strand of
_____.

Fill in the Blank

2. Typically, human beings have _____ of these, in _____ matched pairs.

Fill in the Blank

3. This genetic material is found in the _____ of almost every cell in our bodies.

Fill in the Blank

4. Sections of a _____
that code for specific traits or functions are called _____.

Fill in the Blank

5. A genetic change that passes from generation to generation is called an _____ genetic change.

Fill in the Blank

6. A genetic change that occurs in the egg before it is fertilized is called a _____ genetic change.

Fill in the Blank

7. A genetic change that occurs in one cell in a person who is already born is called a _____ genetic change.

Fill in the Blank

8. We found something clinically significant in the genetic test results. You may hear other genetic counselors call this result _____ or _____.

Fill in the Blank

9. We don't know exactly what we're looking for, so we could do a _____, but there is a newer technique that will give us more information, called _____.

Fill in the Blank

10. With this test, we sometimes find results that we weren't looking for, called _____.